Grounding Question

THE
SQUARE ONE
PROJECT

REIMAGINE JUSTICE

If we could start at “square one,” how would justice policy be different?

THE
PROJECT

REIMAGINE JUSTICE

Emerging Ideas from the Executive Session

THE
PROJECT
REIMAGINE JUSTICE

- Reckoning with racial injustice
- Civilianizing safety
  - Reflects an urgency to confront violence and accountability differently
- Articulating new values such as social justice, human dignity, and parsimony

The Square One Project - In Practice

The Square One Project - In Practice

THE
PROJECT
REIMAGINE JUSTICE

→ Multnomah County's What Works Conference

- Hosted by LPSCC
- What Works history
  - ◆ Successes
  - ◆ Challenges
  - ◆ Opportunities

The Square One Project - In Practice

THE
PROJECT
REIMAGINE JUSTICE

→ The problem:

- Shrinking budgets
- Increasing social/public health problems
- ROI is poor
- The *right* services don't exist
- Big holes in the safety nets

The Square One Project - In Practice

→ The opportunity:

- Create a vision -- a North Star
- Get all systems on the same values page
- Bridge gap between academics and practitioners
- Bring Square One's "blue sky" thinking to the road
- Focus on local justice administration

The Square One Project - In Practice

PROJECT
REIMAGINE JUSTICE

→ What we did:

- “Stole” the Square One Project format
- Created an agenda that illuminates the need to think differently about human behavior
- Who attended -- who was missing
- Next steps
